

INTRODUCTION

In 2016, Prayas started out with the intention of helping the society and reaching out to the underprivileged. This initiative started with a group of five members and today has grown into a community of 35 members.

JOURNEY SO FAR

After a year of consistent work, we started distributing food to the needy children on the streets. Every Sunday more than 110 children are fed across different areas.

We accomplished this feat with the strength of only 7 members at the time.

During the pandemic, we lent our help to those in need of medicines, oxygen and food.

Medical expenses and other monetary help was provided as well.

The chilly winters of Gujarat were warmed by us for those who have to resort to living on the streets. We have distributed blankets to the needy.

More than 700 pairs of slippers were provided to children during summers so that their feet are safe from the heat.

The children on the streets also get a respite of entertainment and optimism as we plan to organise a special talent hunt for them.

For the respite of animals, we installed a navkar mantra system in 6 Panjarapoles across Gujarat. Ghee, roti and lapsi were also provided to the cows.

The old-age homes are often overlooked and lack facilities. We provided them with clothes and installed a live dhokla machine that brought a bright smile on the faces of our dada-dadis.

Bhakti sandhyas are organised at old age homes for more than 80 old-age home residents so that they can enjoy a fun-filled evening and end the day with bright smiles on their face.

We make it a point to spend time with specially-abled children, play with them and engage them in constructive activities like painting, art and crafts.

We have also distributed 5000 notebooks to the needy students for unhindered access to quality education.

Looking at improving the environment, we have already organised a tree plantation drive and planted 7500 saplings across panjrapoles and old age homes
